Press Release: Flood watch in effect as severe storms and additional rainfall expected in Barre Sunday and Monday

Barre, VT -- A flood watch is in effect for all of Vermont from 2:00 PM Sunday, July 9, 2023 to 8:00 PM Monday, July 10, 2023 due to widespread heavy rain expected in the area. This weather system will include strong thunderstorms. Due to saturated soils and elevated river levels from recent rainfall, these coming storms could result in widespread flash flooding and river flooding.

In Barre, residents may observe storm drains backing up due to the rainfall. Our city crews will be checking for flash flooding and river levels regularly through the storm event and responding to any concerning developments. If you experience or witness significant increases in water levels, please call (802) 476-6613.

Please check our website (<https://www.barrecity.org/>) or our Facebook page (@BarreCityVT) for more updates.
